

Latin America and the Caribbean SDG 14 implementation assessment

Background and scope

The Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC) launched a study to follow up on the implementation of Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 14 in Latin America and the Caribbean" to identify

Main conclusions

Target SDG 14.C enhance the conservation and sustainable use of oceans and their resources by implementing international law as reflected in UNCLOS (which provides the legal framework for the conservation and sustainable use of oceans and their resources) (as recalled in paragraph 1) of the future, e, ant

The L6E indicators provide an overview of how countries coordinate and whether they plan and make decisions on the same basis" principles" and objectives, The SD 11 survey in Latin America and the Caribbean shows that countries do not actively participate to man#roves and estuarine salt marshes in the re#ion have been impacted with si#nificant losses caused by chronic anthropo#enic stressors such as coastal dev

The pathway to succeed on the implementation of SD 11 can be expanded and accelerated with all opportunities for countries bordering the region