

On the occasion of International Law Day

Launch Event:

The Final Report of the Council of Advisers on the Application of the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court to Cyberwarfare

This International Law Day, we invite you to a launch event for a new report on the application of the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court (ICC) to cyberwarfare and a discussion on the role the ICC may play in the regulation of warfare as it evolves in the 21st century.

Two UN-mandated groups, the Group of Governmental Experts on Advancing Responsible State Behavior in Cyberspace in the Context of International Security (GGE) and the Open-ended Working Group on Developments in the Field of Information and Telecommunications in the Context of International Security (OEWG) have been clear that international law applies to cyberspace in parallel to the work of the GGE and OEWG on the application of international law to cyberspace. 11 States Parties to the Rome Statute created a Council of Advisers to explore the specific role of the ICC in the regulation of cyberwarfare.

Nearly two years since its first meeting, members of the Council of Advisers on the Application of the Rome Statute of the
