

DEBT SUSTAINABILITY

D $\frac{D}{GDP} > 100\%$ C $\frac{D}{GDP} > 90\%$ B $\frac{D}{GDP} > 80\%$ A $\frac{D}{GDP} > 70\%$

D $\frac{D}{GDP} > 100\%$ C $\frac{D}{GDP} > 90\%$ B $\frac{D}{GDP} > 80\%$ A $\frac{D}{GDP} > 70\%$

D $\frac{D}{GDP} > 100\%$
C $\frac{D}{GDP} > 90\%$

Recommendation

A $\frac{D}{GDP} > 70\%$ B $\frac{D}{GDP} > 80\%$ C $\frac{D}{GDP} > 90\%$ D $\frac{D}{GDP} > 100\%$

A $\frac{D}{GDP} > 70\%$ B $\frac{D}{GDP} > 80\%$ C $\frac{D}{GDP} > 90\%$ D $\frac{D}{GDP} > 100\%$

Recommendation

ACCESS TO NEW TECHNOLOGIES

C Medium 10 Gap 46
Medium-term (2021-2025) projections of the number of people with access to the Internet in the world, by region. The number of people with access to the Internet is projected to increase from 4.6 billion in 2020 to 6.1 billion in 2025. The largest increase is projected for Africa, where the number of people with access to the Internet is projected to increase from 0.5 billion in 2020 to 1.5 billion in 2025.

C Medium 10 Gap 46
Medium-term (2021-2025) projections of the number of people with access to the Internet in the world, by region. The number of people with access to the Internet is projected to increase from 4.6 billion in 2020 to 6.1 billion in 2025. The largest increase is projected for Africa, where the number of people with access to the Internet is projected to increase from 0.5 billion in 2020 to 1.5 billion in 2025.

10 Gap

46

Recommendation