

In addition, we advocate for labour and social security rights, and argue for the positive contribution of migrants to social, economic and education development, as well as to the processes of integration and cooperation among countries.

Since 2021, already within the framework of the Global Compact and for the