

(World governing bodies must work to bridge the development gap between nation to promote good governance. The World Health Organization (WHO) and other bodies must promulgate policies to uplift very poor and needy nations of the world. We recommend that efforts must be made to collapse needless trade and immigration barriers.)