

The Working Group on Girls (WGG) is a coalition of governmental organizations committed to safeguarding girls' rights and promoting their full and meaningful participation in global decision

Websites: <https://girlsrights.org/wp/who-we-are>, <https://dayofthegirlsummit.org/>

Organization's Focal Point name, title, and email: Lyndsey Reyr7w(m)4 (i)4 (t.)7 22

Recommendations:

Build a fortified hull of protection: Implement robust legal frameworks, implement national floors of social protection -

Chapter IV. Youth and future generations greater participation from developing countries, marginalized groups, and future generations.

- Mobilize resources for global challenges: Develop innovative and sustainable financing mechanisms to address global challenges. This includes increasing public and private sector funding, exploring innovative financial instruments, reforming the international tax system, the global financial architecture, and ensuring equitable access to resources.
- Adapt to emerging technologies: Develop effective frameworks for governing new technologies and addressing the potential risks and opportunities they present. This includes promoting responsible development, ensuring ethical considerations, and mitigating the potential for misuse.